Tips & advice
Parents know only too well the importance of early childhood education in terms of cognitive, character and social development of children in preparation for a smooth transition from the home to formal schooling, as well as for their subsequent life’s journey.

There are many factors in deciding what constitutes a high-quality kindergarten, but perhaps one foremost consideration is the overall management. It must be able to provide a well-rounded curriculum that supports all areas of a child’s development, including intellect, ethics, habits, social skills and physique.

The curriculum should provide a balance of play and structured activities, including teacher- and child-initiated exploration. It should be based on a child’s developmental needs; include specific learning goals that are appropriate for the age; and delivered in small class sizes with low teacher-child ratios.

It is important that teachers are qualified and specialized in early childhood education; can engage children in purposeful learning activities and play; frequently check individual child’s progress; and regularly communicate with parents and caregivers.

Whilst the kindergarten’s facilities, teaching aids and general presentation are important and easier to assess, parents must do their homework in respect of its history, reputation, education philosophy and teaching quality. And word-of-mouth endorsements, too, are often quite telling.

We hope this guidebook will be of assistance to you in making an informed decision on your children’s education.

2019/2020 kindergarten admission arrangements

In an effort to continue the success of the implementation of 'Free Quality Kindergarten (KG) Education Scheme', the government maintains its effort in enhancing the admission arrangements for the coming school year.

Application process
To prevent a child from hoarding a number of places at one time, which would affect other children, each child who can receive education in Hong Kong will only be issued one registration document and all Scheme-KGs can only admit students holding a valid registration document. Parents are required to apply timely and obtain a valid registration document to complete the registration procedure for admission to a K1 class in a Scheme-KG in the 2019/20 school year. If parents wish to apply for admission to a K1 class in a Scheme-KG for their children in the 2019/20 school year, they are required to apply to EDB for the ‘Registration Certificate for KG Admission’ (RC) from September to November 2018. KGs must notify parents of the results of K1 admission before 21 December 2018. Parents will be required to confirm acceptance of a K1 place by submitting the ‘RC’/‘AP’ to the student concerned for registration to a Scheme-KG, but the parents concerned are required to pay full school fees (i.e. before deduction of subsidy under the Scheme) as shown on the Fees Certificate of the KG admitting the child. KGs can only admit students holding a valid registration document. Parents are generally required to apply timely and obtain a valid registration document and all Scheme-KGs for the coming school year.

If application is successful
KGs inform applicants of the application result before 23 December 2018

If a student cannot obtain an RC because he/she can receive education in Hong Kong but is not eligible for subsidy under the Scheme, EDB will issue a ‘Kindergarten Admission Pass’ (AP) to the student concerned for registration to a Scheme-KG. KGs inform applicants of the application result before 21 December 2018. If application is successful

Admission Arrangements for Nursery (K1) Classes in Kindergartens for the 2019/20 School Year:

1. Applicants apply to EDB for the “Registration Certificate for KG admission” (“RC”) from September to November 2018
2. Upon receipt of the applications with all necessary information and documents provided, EDB will generally take six to eight weeks to complete processing of the applications and issue the “RC”/ “Kindergarten Admission Pass” (AP) to eligible applicants by post
3. KGs process 2019/20 K1 admission applications
4. Applicants register with one KG during the “centralised registration dates” (i.e. 10 to 12 January 2019) by submitting the “RC”/“AP” and paying registration fee
5. KGs inform applicants of the application result before 23 December 2018
6. Applicants refer to the K1 vacancy information released by EDB after the “centralised registration dates” (i.e. from the end of January 2019)
The big debate in early childhood education today is the ‘push down’ of academics, robbing children of play. Many professionals are concerned about what this means for young children, and for the future of society as children grow up without the vital learning self-initiated play provides them.

In Hong Kong, there can be a tendency to over-fill young children’s schedules with formal, planned lessons to provide children with more learning. However, professionals, such as Peter Gray, suggest we must do the opposite. Supporting and encouraging children’s inborn drive to play and explore gives them the most valuable skills in living and learning. In Give Childhood Back to Children, Gray states, “If we want our offspring to have happy, productive and moral lives, we must allow more time for play, not less.”

Play is defined as voluntary, self-motivated, and engaging. All forms of learning, including physical, social, emotional and cognitive development, are rooted in play. The fundamentals of learning are formed, as children are able to follow their curiosities with natural problems and new ideas unfolding in front of them. Through play, children learn crucial lessons, such as the cycle of practice, fail, try again; building in them persistence and resilience. Play provides children with opportunities to build their confidence and creativity as they become risk takers and problem solvers. In this ever-changing world, these skills cannot be learned by memorized answer, but are truly fostered through allowing children to test and try new experiences and ideas. They are consistently strengthening their cognitive thinking as they actively take part in their learning. These are valued skills and even today’s workplaces are not seeing enough self-initiation, critical analyzing or creativity. Social and emotional skills are also embedded in play. Social skills, with their cues and rules, are explored and experimented with as they engage with peers and explore cooperation. They investigate their relationships and emotions, giving them time and exposure to develop understanding of social behaviours and norms, as well as insight into their own emotional responses. In imaginary play, they are free to experiment with unfamiliar characters’ roles. They gain empathy as they explore others’ perspectives. They grow a strong sense of self and belonging as they role play, experimenting with all the knowledge they are gaining socially in their daily lives. They are able to experiment with the unknown, learning to control and understand their impulses and fears.

At Yew Chung International School (YCIS) Early Childhood Education (ECE) Section, through play, character development is also supported, validated and encouraged. Individual children are valued for their strengths and differences. Too often as adults we forget about the importance of the formation of personality within a child and how it needs to be gently nurtured. When adults provide time for play, they show children that they respect and trust in their natural and authentic desire to learn and question their world. Within play, children have the opportunity to develop positive and secure dispositions, allowing stable character formation and unique personality traits. They gain strong self-identity, which carries on with them throughout life. Children may be “small” but by no means should they ever be made to feel insignificant.

In YCIS early childhood education programmes, all these skills are highly valued through their play-based curriculum. The curriculum is led by the children’s interests, explorations and discoveries. Throughout the classroom, children are researchers engaged in different types of experience, from individual children investigations to small group explorations. Teachers are actively engaged with children, as well as closely observing the various learning on-going of all students. Teachers then creatively extend that learning with further investigations, relevant conversations, and thoughtful settings to deepen children’s play. Teachers respect children’s view, feelings and knowledge. The uninterrupted play is relished by the learners, as they enthusiastically throw themselves into every moment of the school day.
One of the benefits students and parents enjoy at Mount Kelly School Hong Kong (Mount Kelly) is that it is a through-school. Mount Kelly Babies and Toddlers (Playgroup) and International Preschool (Kindergarten) equip students with skills in readiness for Preparatory School, which in turn prepares students for their senior years in College. As a whole, the school offers education for students aged 6 months to 18 years old.

Opportunities for future studies

Upon graduation, the kindergarten offers students direct admission into the Preparatory School. During the students' final year at kindergarten, parents will be invited to visit and meet the Head of Preparatory School, to gain a deeper insight into life there.

Mount Kelly students are assured to progress from the Preparatory School in Hong Kong to the College in the UK. The guaranteed placement provides a seamless transition into one of the UK’s elite leading senior schools, giving students the highest quality of education.

Students from Mount Kelly School Hong Kong who progress through to the College will go through a special transition phase, including a meeting with the Director of Admissions & Marketing and Principal in the UK. Moving up to the College will be a significant and celebrated key milestone in their education.

If students choose to continue their studies in a different school, Mount Kelly will ensure they are fully prepared for the Common Entrance Exams, and any scholarship requirements in order to access the top ranking senior schools in the UK, which include Eton, Winchester, Sherborne, Misselthwaite, Blundell’s, Downside, St Mary’s Calne, Bryanston and Canford.

Overseas learning experience

In addition to the guaranteed admission to our sister school, Mount Kelly School Hong Kong will arrange an annual visit to Mount Kelly UK for a selection of students from Year 5 to 8. After a day of sightseeing in London, students will travel to the beautiful countryside in Tavistock, joining their peers at Mount Kelly for a week, to find out what it is like to study overseas.

Students will stay in the boarding house and participate in daily lessons with Mount Kelly students. They will also enjoy the opportunity to join the ‘Shackleton Programme’, inspired by the brave and heroic British explorer Ernest Shackleton. This unique programme offered at both our Hong Kong and UK schools, provides practical experience in project planning, team games, leadership, and more. Whilst in the UK our students will get to compare the differences between the activities conducted in the UK and Hong Kong. More importantly, students will get to make new friends, and gain experiences in their new surroundings, whilst always retaining the familiarity of being a part of the Mount Kelly family.

Apart from nurturing confident, well-rounded and forward-thinking individuals, Mount Kelly strives to offer great overseas learning opportunities for students to excel.

Invent a promising future with STEAM

Creative problem-solving is considered an essential skill for children, who live and learn in this rapidly changing world.

Nord Anglia International School Hong Kong (NAIS) enables their students to imagine a world of infinite possibilities, by providing an enhanced curriculum that incorporates a unique approach to STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Mathematics) learning for every subject and year group, from Nursery through to Secondary school. STEAM subjects play an invaluable part in guiding students to develop academic, social and personal success.

Focus of the year

NAIS, part of the Nord Anglia Education (NAE) family, holds an exclusive collaboration with the world’s leading STEAM university and research institute, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT).

This year, students are taking part in three MIT Challenges based around the theme of ‘Superheroes’, to investigate the real science behind superhero powers, and utilise this knowledge to inspire creative thinking. Projects will be covered throughout the year on the topics of ‘Epic Identity’, ‘Super Natural’ and ‘Medical Marvel’, which encourage students to explore real life problems, and develop distinctive solutions that help them to understand the world around them.

Enlightened by inspiring teachers

Darren Sutton, NAIS’s STEAM Co-ordinator and Regional Lead for the NAE-MIT collaboration, explains the uniqueness of this teaching method. “Educational research shows that knowledge is built by the learner, not supplied by the teacher – students learn by constructing,” says Sutton. “Our role as educators should be to inspire students to actively discover and persevere.” The collaboration between NAIS and MIT offers students an exceptional opportunity to learn from MIT professors, and constructs the pathway for lifelong learning.

Learning through co-operative activities

At NAIS’s pre-schools in Sai Kung and Tai Tam, students are involved in the MIT Challenges through conceptualisation. For example, ‘Greener Skies’ was one of the exploration themes of last year, in which students used role-play to examine the concept of ‘flying’. They also built a model aircraft, and spoke to a pilot, who visited as a guest speaker to share her knowledge and experiences about flying.

On another project, students collaborated with older students from Years 7 to 9, to learn about robotics and construct their own mini city, complete with exhilarating self-driving electric vehicles.

Naima Charlier, NAIS’s Head of Curriculum and Head of Campus at Sai Kung, believes that the enhanced curriculum has great benefits for students of all ages. “From the earliest ages, students are curious about the world and possess amazing abilities to solve problems in wonderfully creative ways,” says Charlier. “Fearless innovation is an innate talent in our young students, and our collaboration with MIT helps us to promote and nurture this.”

Creative problem-solving is considered an essential skill for children, who live and learn in this rapidly changing world.

At NAIS Hong Kong we promise to support your child to be their best and achieve more than they ever thought possible. Our world-leading teachers deliver excellent academic outcomes through teaching a globally respected curriculum enhanced by collaborations with pre-eminent organisations, such as The Juilliard School and Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT). By individually tailoring our approach to your child, we ensure that they will get ahead in our ever-changing world.

With a choice of three fantastic campuses across Hong Kong, your child will love coming to school and learning with us.

Mills International Preschool

Established by Ms Joanna Hotung in 2013, Mills International Preschool is one of the education institutes in the Hotung family, a prominent pioneer and supporter of quality education in Hong Kong for over 100 years. “At Mills International Preschool, we aim to inspire and develop the global leaders of tomorrow,” says Hotung.

Following the United Kingdom’s Early Years curriculum framework, and teaching in English together with Mandarin, the school offers playgroup, pre-nursery (PN), as well as Kindergarten (K1-K3) programs, catering to children aged 6 months to 6 years old.

Mills International Preschool believes that every child has the right to achieve their full potential. In a supportive, stimulating, and high achieving learning environment, students will learn to challenge themselves, build upon their strengths, and excel in pursuing their passions.

In particular, Mills International Preschool is the only preschool and pre-nursery in Hong Kong that offers the MindUP curriculum, and joins a number of leading ESF and international primary as well as secondary schools, in providing this invaluable addition to the general curriculum.

MindUP Curriculum

MindUP is a mindfulness training program devised by The Hawn Foundation in the United States. It provides a set of social, emotional, and self-regulatory strategies to cultivate students’ wellbeing and emotional balance. Basically, students will learn the technique for focused attention, which will directly boost their happiness and make them more receptive to learning.

One of the objectives of this program is to help students understand, express, and manage their thoughts and feelings that collide in their minds every day. For example, its independent simple breathing strategy helps students regulate their thoughts and emotions, and allow them the mental space needed to maintain healthy minds and bodies, as well as to improve resiliency.

In addition, it is designed to encourage even the youngest students to gain more awareness of how their body and mind are connected. With better control of their reactions and emotions, students will become more capable to concentrate, supported by daily repetition of attentive listening, and regular ‘brain breaks’.

Apart from individual growth, the program also helps improve cognitive, emotional, and social development of students to benefit themselves and others. Students are taught to be kind and have empathy for others, so they can learn to resolve conflicts without aggression, and acquire a greater appreciation for different opinions.

Importantly, students will learn how to name their emotions such as angry, sad, hungry, tired, jealous, happy, bored, frustrated, disappointed, and more, as an effective way to improve their self-expression and self-management skills. Understanding their own feelings can achieve a calming effect and help reduce stress levels.

Mills International Preschool has been at the forefront of education in Hong Kong for over 20 years, with graduates receiving offers of admission to some of the most highly regarded international and local primary schools in Hong Kong, including Harrow International School, ESF School, and Kiangsu Chekiang Primary School.
Korean International School (KIS) is an international community of learners who respect the diversity of experiences and perspectives of one another. Established since 1994, KIS strives to create an environment that fosters an enthusiasm for learning, and enables all students to discover, dream and grow under the mission statement of ‘Find Passion; Foster Vision; and Encourage Action’.

As a non-profit, non-denominational and co-educational organization, KIS aims to provide quality education to children of all nationalities, aged from 4 to 18. For students at their early year foundation stage of learning, they will be attending the reception class, which follows the Statutory Framework for the Early Year Foundation Stage (EYFS) of the National Curriculum for the UK. In addition to the robust and comprehensive UK curriculum, teaching programs include specialist courses in performing arts and sports, with outdoor activities playing a significant role in the learning paths of all KIS students.

Learning is fun and engaging in KIS reception class, as it seeks to offer quality and consistency in all early year settings, where teacher to student ratio is 1:11 with one assistant, to ensure every student is making good progress, and none of them gets left behind because of receiving inadequate attention.

Besides, Reception class provides a secure foundation for students through learning and development opportunities, which are planned according to the needs and interests of each individual, and being assessed and reviewed regularly to guarantee effective learning.

As far as partnership between practitioners and parents is concerned, close connections and frequent communications are maintained between the school and parents, which strive to provide the greatest support to all students. Likewise, KIS endeavors to create a safe and inclusive environment for its students, where everyone enjoys equal opportunity, without discrimination.

The EYFS curriculum covers an extensive area of learning and development, including Communication and Language (in Chinese/ Korean/ Spanish), Personal, Social and Emotional development, English, Mathematics, Understanding the World, Physical Development, together with Expressive Arts and Design. It ultimately aims to facilitate an all-round social, cognitive and physical development of students, and inspire them to pursue growth and learning.

A school filled with smiles and laughter

Like an oasis in the heart of the concrete jungle, KIS breeds a group of humble and cheerful youngsters.
Established since 1969, Hong Kong Man Sang Kindergarten and International Nursery is committed as ever to providing the optimum learning environment to enable each and every one of its students to blossom and to reach their highest potentials.

Based on its strong belief that every child is a unique individual with his/her own interests and abilities, the School makes it a mission to provide a liberal education that helps develop their mind and mould their character.

For starters, the classes at Hong Kong Man Sang are led by qualified Early Childhood Educators who love, respect, trust and care for these young learners. In a trilingual learning environment, English, Mandarin and Cantonese, the base of the curriculum consists of Theme Education and Children’s Project Approach, which engage children to be inspired to build on their existing experience and knowledge.

The School is also very mindful of the mental health development of students, with Dr. Wong Chung Kwong starting the ICan whole person development programme for Pre-Nursery (PN) to Lower Kindergarten (K2) students. Together with ‘The Good Child Behaviour Scheme’, Dr. Wong encourages children to develop good habits and build good moral standards. As for the Upper Kindergarten (K1) students, the Zippy’s Friends program is implemented to promote mental health, emotional wellbeing and communication skills of children, for them to develop coping abilities and the motivation to learn.

Furthermore, with the One Sports or Arts in Life Scheme, each child is encouraged to take part in at least one sport, arts, drama or music classes. Through these coaching programs, children can explore their interests, realise their potentials and develop their talents. Other extra-curricular activities, such as Uniform Teams, Continuous Reading Programme, and the Community Activities are offered to enhance children’s sense of community.

When learning becomes fun

Interactive academic and spiritual learning are encouraged at a young age to develop a healthy personality at Kowloon Baptist Church Kindergarten.

A mission outreach of the Kowloon International Baptist Church (KIBC), Kowloon Baptist Church Kindergarten (KCKK) believes the teaching of Christian principles is an essential element of healthy child development. Hence, the KCKK community acts like a family where students learn to love and respect themselves, their neighbors, and their faith.

By integrating Christian principles into the ‘learn through play’ monolingual English curriculum, students will learn how to manage emotions, make and build relationships. KCKK ensures the curriculum not only meets educational, physical and spiritual needs, but also enhances students' self-esteem, self-discipline and confidence. It also considers that by incorporating fun and free play together with learning in its program, children will perform best. What's more, the school understands every student is unique because God loves them all.

Through the monolingual English Christian program, learning activities are expanded with hands-on experiences and activities, including circle time, show and tell, free play, music, physical exercise, library/reading, and Chapel service for all classes. The K1 and K2 programs are specially designed to create wonderful memories and establish good friendships among students.

The school expects families to show appreciation for the teaching of Christian, as well as support KCKK to educate children in a loving, family-oriented environment. All parents and family members are most welcome to participate in the three Sunday School services, in addition to the kindergarten held on Sundays at 9:15am, 10:45am and 12:15pm.

David Exodus International Kindergarten was founded in 1988. At that time, David Exodus was the only international kindergarten located in the developing area of Shatin district. Our aim and ethos were to offer our holistic and organic preschool education, thus we have developed a history and identity within the local and wider community. Children are not required to pass any interviews to gain admission to our kindergarten. We aim to establish an environment that enables our children to enjoy their time there. Classes will be taught in English to enhance their literacy skills. The adoption of a thematic approach also makes learning easier. Our unique eclectic curriculum encourages and fosters children's physical, intellectual, social and emotional development. These learning experiences will lay a good foundation for children to get accepted into reputable primary schools.

As educators, it's our privilege to offer a unique learning experience and adopt a holistic approach. All our teachers are committed to helping our children's growth and development. Our Mission is to instill traditional values whilst encouraging independence, creativity and life-long love of learning. We firmly believe kindergarten is an important bridge between home and primary school. Therefore, we provide a safe, attractive and engaging setting in which our children will transit smoothly to kindergarten life. Our aim is to accept and respect our children as individuals, unleash their potential by providing situations which enhance their physical, intellectual, social and emotional development.

Our eclectic curriculum is based on the “activity methods of teaching”, a term used to describe a holistic and thematic approach towards learning through interaction with the environment. Every month our children learn from a given theme. Language building classes, arts and crafts activities, storytelling, music activities and discussions will be related to this specific theme, which facilitates literacy and numeracy development. Children in K1 will participate in free play and structured activities, with a focus on developing motor skills and independence. Children in K2 are encouraged to participate in group activities with more emphasis on reading, writing and arithmetic readiness.

Letting Children Lead:
Developing Skills for the Next Generation

How can young children direct their own learning? Will they not just want to play? These are common questions we hear at Fairchild where we provide an emergent curriculum based on children’s interests and where we make learning through play meaningful, impactful, fun and memorable. We observe children’s interests, we pose questions, and before we know it, there is room full of children engaging in discussion, asking questions, solving problems, and coming up with ideas. These ideas are the basis for the children’s class projects delivered in the Reggio Emilia inspired approach of learning through play and inquiry.

At Fairchild, we understand that children are innately curious and when given the space, time and guidance they are able to learn naturally in an authentic and safe environment which allows them to make sense of the world around them. In creating this learning experience, each class is guided by an emergent curriculum where children’s own interests set the “theme” or “topic” for exploration. Through the emergent curriculum not only are all children’s interests taken into account, but children take ownership of their learning, making decisions from an early age. Children are intrinsically motivated and invested in learning when they have chosen to explore something of interest to them and their authentic experiences make learning memorable and long lasting.

The demands of an ever-changing world, mean that skills required for the next generation are different to those deemed important in the past. Employers now list problem solving, emotional intelligence, critical thinking, creativity and effective communications with people, as critical work skills. It is incumbent now on educators, parents and the community as a whole, to prepare and equip children with the necessary skills for future success. Moving away from the traditional style of teaching where teachers share pre-determined information, and adapting the learning environment, are key factors in preparing the upcoming generations to meet these needs.

Many parents are new to the emergent curriculum concept, relating learning only to their own school experiences. An example of an authentic emergent learning project was when our K1 children, guided by their teacher began a discussion about flying, airplanes and travel. This led to children creating their own airplane from materials in the classroom and they worked together to add details like suitcases, passports, seat belts and tray tables. This project and the many others children initiate at Fairchild are layered with learning, and cross all areas of early childhood learning including emotional, social and physical development, literacy, numeracy, the concept of problem solving, negotiation and collaboration with peers.

By respecting children’s choices, we empower them to feel confident and capable in their decision making, which connects and reflects the world they live in. The children at Fairchild have fun, the smiles on their faces are proof of that and all the while, they are learning.

SDM-Chatsworth International Kindergarten inspires and enlightens young minds with an innovative approach.

Affiliated to the top-ranked Chatsworth International Kindergarten in Singapore, SDM-Chatsworth International Kindergarten (SDMC) in Hong Kong adopts a Singapore-based multilingual curriculum, and provides international exchange experiences for their students. SDMC aims to help students prepare for local and international primary schools enrollments, and lay a strong foundation to realise their potentials.

Project-based approach
Students will be involved in projects designed to develop well-rounded life skills, promote curiosity, and encourage inquiry thinking. Students will be constantly challenged by questions, and invited to learn by a series of first-hand observations, hands-on experiences, systematic instructions, as well as personal reflections.

Global Learning Experiences
Guiding students to establish cross-border friendship is one of the major components in this global learning experience. Throughout the ‘International Buddies Global Friendship’ program, students will keep frequent contact with their buddies in Singapore, by participating in the ‘Online Show-And-Tell’ and ‘Curriculum Crossover Projects’ via video calls. Besides, SDMC will organize annual exchange program to Singapore for their students, where they can immerse in the learning environment with Chatsworth students in Singapore, and meet their buddies in person.

Singapore-based Curriculum
Following the holistic approach in Singapore education, SDMC is dedicated to consolidating the academic foundation of their students in language, mathematics, and sciences. For most of the time, students will be learning in an English or Mandarin speaking environment, with lessons conducted by experienced native English or Mandarin speaking teachers. Inspiring students through innovative teaching

Since establishing its first teaching center in Hong Kong in May 2012, Bright International Education Limited (Bright Education) has received positive feedback and enthusiastic support from parents and students, and has steadily expanded their teaching scope in Hong Kong, Mainland China, and even Macau.

“We produce results because we teach students from the heart based on structured programs,” says Victor Ma, Executive Director and General Manager of Bright Education as he explains their teaching philosophies. “In delivering our programs, we work hard and work smart at the same time.”

“As our many students are spread over different age groups and come from diverse backgrounds, we tailor our programs to address the specific needs of each student,” he continues. “Instead of a one-size-fits-all approach, we always strive to design the most effective way of coaching after a careful analysis of the students concerned.”

Co-founder of Bright Education Yoyo Lo, also Executive Director and Course Program Manager, shares her experience in early childhood education. “Based on my specialist training and research on the subject in the past ten years, I have developed and refined my tutorial contents, and came up with an original teaching kit – ‘Brighter Phonics’- specially designed for my young students,” she says.

Lo points out that rote learning is not conducive to effective learning. Instead, she adopts an interactive approach that encourages student participation, resulting in better understanding and retention on the part of young learners. She has designed three sets of teaching kits that facilitate learning by movements, pictures, and imaginative stories. Educational games conducted by Lo have proven successful, as they have boosted the learning incentive of young students who have even taken the initiative to pronounce words that they have not come across previously.

With a much lower student-to-teacher ratio compared to large-scale tutorial centers, Bright Education is able to devote much closer attention to individual students and monitor their progress. “For example, we make sure all the students’ work is 100% marked by our teachers,” Lo stresses. “Therefore, we are in a good position to accurately assess their strengths and weaknesses, and take action accordingly.”

“We also believe a positive teacher-student relationship goes beyond the classroom,” says Lo. “My students and I get along like friends and we even share our own little secrets!”

Incorporating STEAM into holistic education for young learners

Students’ enthusiasm towards learning can only be ignited in a conducive and stimulating environment.

Since 2016, Hong Kong Nobel Preschool (Nobel) has introduced the play-based STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Mathematics) curriculum into its childhood education program, for developing the interest of learning among students, and cultivating more future technology talents.

Exploring science with everyday household items

At Nobel’s STEM classroom, scientific experiments are conducted using everyday household items, such as egg, vinegar, milk, pencil, and hair dryer, instead of conventional chemical substances. “We come across science in everyday life, for example, the separation between oil and water,” explains Lydia Ng, Principal of Hong Kong Nobel Preschool. “We use simple expressions in explaining to young learners, like ‘heavy objects sink, light objects float’, instead of laboring them with technical terms like ‘gravity’.”

Ng believes that STEM curriculum can stimulate curiosity, motivate learning, and encourage youngsters to become spontaneous explorers. At the same time, it fosters the beneficial habit of acquiring knowledge through observations.

Smart questions encourage participation

The student-teacher ratio in STEM classes never exceeds 3:1, to ensure students receive close attention and actively participate in class. During lessons, students will learn by answering thought-provoking questions from teacher, and will be guided on how to express themselves.

“We deliberately sow seeds through some happy learning experiences in hopes that they will sprout in the future for students,” Ng adds.

From STEM to STEAM

According to research in the US, adding the ‘Art’ component to the curriculum can further promote creativity of students. Hence, starting from September 2017, Nobel has expanded the teaching framework from STEM to STEAM. Ng also shares that she is delighted to witness her students becoming confident learners with enhanced problem-solving skills.

“Parents should be discouraged from providing model answers to questions,” Ng observes. “At Nobel, we help students deduce the answer for themselves.”

Ng points out there is plenty of knowledge embedded in the curriculum that is not necessarily pre-arranged. “To our surprise, students actually look at matters frequently from a fresh angle, which also prompts teachers to think outside the box, and create a new set of solutions.”

All-rounded education

Apart from STEM learning, Ng insists on nurturing students in a trilingual environment to experience balanced exposures to English, Mandarin, and Cantonese.

Ng also recommends parents to introduce more outdoor activities and games for their children, allowing them to learn in a fun and engaging way. “They are of definite benefit in sharpening children’s observation power and problem-solving skills,” she concludes.

Empower youngsters to be well-rounded lifelong learners

Galilee International School (GIS) aims to grow vibrant and confident students, who strive for the highest standards in academic, while accept the responsibility of helping others in the local and global communities.

The school believes that early years are critical for childhood education, in constructing a solid foundation of essential skills, such as literacy and numeracy. Meanwhile, it is equally important for instilling a sense of wonder towards learning that can help students develop as lifelong learners.

GIS specifically offers International Baccalaureate Primary Years Program (IB PYP) – a primary years program delivers high-quality education to expats for more than 4 years. The learning path of GIS follows the IB PYP from Pre-Nursery to K3.

Programs in GIS are deliberately developed to integrate literacy skills and immerse students into an English learning environment. The school also offers bilingual program in English and Chinese, conducted by native speaking teachers, to encourage all students from Pre-Nursery to K3 to be familiar with both languages.

GIS has a small potted garden area to grow herbs, and a kitchen with big size oven for the little chefs. These sensory stimulating facilities are used in all years as an extended classroom to the natural environment, for teaching mathematics, science, language and other subjects.

Another key objective of GIS is to strengthen the ethos of respect and understanding across the entire school, where students will learn to be considerate in this multicultural community. Every student, parent, teacher and support staff, with different cultural, social, religious and ethnic backgrounds, is deserved to feel secured and supported in the GIS family.

Similarly, many families have recognized the advantages of a school, which values academic excellence as much as the character development of students. The 5 core principles of GIS are - Faith, Grace, Hope, Love, and Truth, guiding students with Christian philosophies to grow in righteousness, and contribute to their community.

Choosing the right preschool for your child is essential for giving your child the right foundation to be successful, comfortable, and familiar in a school setting.

GIS has been a very successful and reputable preschool that follows IB PYP (Primary Years Program) for over 5 years.

We prepare children ages 2 to 6 years old for Primary schooling; spiritually, academically, socially, and emotionally.
