I found that even in an equivalent cosmopolitan city like San Francisco, the pace of everyday life is much slower as people do slow down to smell the roses. They also make time to customize their abode with a palette and ambience that resonate with their chosen design theme.

To help us forget about the drudgeries of the daily grind, and really indulge ourselves with an extra dose of pampering and luxury, we are lucky in that more and more design, furniture and lifestyle shops have landed on our shores. From the traditional emphasis on the living room and bedroom, the refinement in home décor and accessories has extended to the bathroom, the kitchen, the balcony and the patio. On top of innovative products and state-of-the-art technology, we are also paying increasing attention to such considerations as ergonomics and sustainability.

As usual, this latest edition of Home is jam-packed with fantastic ideas to help you lead a more refined lifestyle.

Having just returned from a 2-week vacation in the States, I am even more keenly aware of the fact that we Hongkongers lead a particularly high-tension, hectic life.

A Fresher Take on The Boldest Design

Sub-Zero, the industry leader in premium refrigeration and wine storage, is here to save your golden culinary moment.

Whilst Sub-Zero’s PRO Series soars in popularity for its bold exterior and ground-breaking technology in keeping food fresher and longer, the newest model, PRO 36, is no exception. It elevates performance to a whole new level with its avant-garde preservation system upholding aestheticism in crafting units in stainless steel inside and out with a luxury touch. Available in a smaller 91 cm width, PRO 36 offers new design opportunities for small and large kitchens.

As a slimmer size of the widely acclaimed PRO 48, the new PRO 36 presents wow factors to users with its massive refrigeration interior capacity of 564 L and 136 L of freezer capacity despite its slim build. It features the iconic technological features of the PRO 48, including stainless steel finish inside and out; triple-pane UV-protected glass door as option; the acclaimed air purification technology; and all the classic Sub-Zero fridge features that help preserve food longer. Its slimmer physique makes it easier to fit in most Hong Kong homes.

Ultimate food preservation infused with classy design air purification
The latest PRO 36 features a NASA-developed air purification system that replenishes the air every 20 minutes, eliminating ethylene gas, mold, viruses, and bacteria.

Installation flexibility
Install directly within surrounding cabinetry for built-in, or add accessory panels for freestanding.

Interior lighting
Control brightness with soft-on LED lighting that fully illuminates the cavity, making food more visible and less likely to hide.

Dual refrigeration
Pioneered by Sub-Zero, this technology creates the optimal preservation conditions for fresh and frozen food, as the cool, moist air of the refrigerator keeps food fresher and longer, while the frigid, dry air of the freezer prevents frost and freezer burn.

Ergonomic interiors
It provides easy access to food with a full-extension sliding glass shelf. The independently-controlled crisper drawer produces the ideal environment for produce and fresh foods, creating more usable space within the refrigerator.

Magnetic gasket
Locks in temperature and humidity with soft-close door hinge and magnetic seal on doors and drawers.

Advanced temperature control
Controls temperature within one degree of set point via intuitive exterior touch control panel.

Filtered ice
Automatic ice maker with advanced water filtration system.

With these multiple iconic features and classic Sub-Zero food preservation technology, the new PRO 36 will be a new benchmark of premium refrigeration. The new model will soon be launched in Hong Kong.
Bringing culinary precision to the edge

Dedicated to creating professional-grade cooking equipment for homeowners, Wolf introduces the upgraded Convection Steam Oven, converging superior craftsmanship and a user-friendly touch.

As a versatile oven with a host of state-of-the-art features, the upgraded Convection Steam Oven helps you take full control in releasing perfect amounts of steam and heat at critical moments. With the new stainless steel touch control panel, you can choose between different cooking modes, temperature and preset time.

Thanks to Wolf’s exclusive automatic cooking mode, you can prepare crisp, flavorful steamed vegetables effortlessly, with up to 22 percent more nutrients than conventional cooking methods. Meanwhile, steam-roast poultry can be prepared up to 25 percent faster with a gloriously brown presentation and a miraculously juicy tenderness. You can also steam-bake crusty loaves worthy of a bakery, and even rejuvenate leftovers to delicious freshness.

Take advantage of the Vacuum Seal Drawers to prepare food with vacuum packing, which then can be used for sous-vide cooking in the Convection Steam Oven.

Breaking ground with innovation, the updated ovens offer functions beyond cooking. Pamper yourself with the new Spa Mode, whereby the pre-programmed heat and steam setting is specifically designed for warming up your towels, wraps and stones, for massage and spa uses. Additionally, the Sanitize mode offers you a safe and fast method to clean baby bottles and canning jars by heat and steam.

The new Convection Steam Ovens are available in five different styles in a width of 60 cm (E Series) and 76 cm (M Series). To fully incorporate your personal style with the kitchen design, Wolf offers a fascinating array of styles, ranging from a ‘contemporary’ black glass and stainless steel, to ‘transitional’ stainless steel to ‘professional’ stainless steel. Models are available with tubular, professional or retractable handles.

The all-new stainless steel touch control panel, new to the edge of Wolf’s advanced craftsmanship represents the DNA of both brands, creating a gradual transition between elements of Wolf’s fire and Sub-Zero’s ice, while stainless steel represents the DNA of both brands, creating a gradual transformation from a crystalline, ice-like pattern to an undulated, fire-like pattern.

Perforations across the surface as well as the use of the latest computational design tools and digital fabrication technologies like CNC laser-cutting resonate with the sophisticated production of Sub-Zero and Wolf products.

The brand new showroom demonstrates the full potential of Wolf’s advanced craftsmanship, reliability and performance.

As a gathering hub for creative and culinary explorers, Wolf showroom serves as a visual catalogue to showcase the superior craftsmanship of the brands.

Situated in the commercial hub of Hong Kong at Lee Garden 3, Causeway Bay, the prestigious brand builds an engaging flagship showroom as a visual catalogue to showcase the superior craftsmanship of the brands.

Designed by Terre Studio Singapore, the Sub-Zero and Wolf showroom measures a spacious 2,000 sq. ft., and features more than 50 premium Sub-Zero and Wolf products, including the newly launched Wolf Gourmet collection, which is only available in the US, the UK and Hong Kong.

A never-before-seen monumental façade, designed by famous architect Uli Blum, highlights how Sub-Zero and Wolf complements each other. Blum has worked for several well-known international architecture firms, for example, OMA Asia, Gehry Technologies and Zaha Hadid Architects. He has also taught design studios at various universities and colleges.

The brand new showroom demonstrates the full potential and singular harmony between Sub-Zero’s food preservation and Wolf’s precision cooking. The showroom not only helps products stand out and interact with customers, but also seamlessly features different settings to inspire customers to design their dream kitchen.

The façade creates a balance between the central brand elements of Wolf’s fire and Sub-Zero’s ice, while stainless steel represents the DNA of both brands, creating a gradual transformation from a crystalline, ice-like pattern to an undulated, fire-like pattern.

Creating a cozy and homely atmosphere, a ‘ribbon wall’ is used to extend the overall wall surfaces, creating a semi-enclosed space. Unique materials and lighting are also used. Sandblasted wild Teak wood and highly polished Cherry wood panels create distinct zones for Sub-Zero and Wolf. Paulownia wood panels are used in the area where both brands are presented. To bind and separate the space, glass lit structure is created.

Dixon’s latest designs will furnish The Manzoni, a new 100-cover restaurant in the heart of the city. After its pre-opening at the beginning of April to coincide with Milan Design Week, it will re-open just after the Salone del Mobile as a permanent restaurant and a showroom.

The Manzoni will be the brand’s first home on continental Europe. Said the designer: “After years of doing five-day exhibitions in Milan, we finally decided that we had enough of putting such huge energy into pop-up interventions. We wanted to look at different ways of being present in Milan. With the city being so active and engaging right now, it is the right time to forget being temporary and build something permanent. “Just like in London, we don’t think it’s enough to just have a showroom. We need a place where people slow down and experience our products in a live setting. There is nothing dustier than a conventional lighting and furniture showroom. But with The Manzoni, people are able to experience our new collections in an active context.” Among the new designs on show this year are Fat, upholstered chairs which are designed to hug the body and allows for many sitting positions.

There are also two new light collections: the collapsible Spring, comprising of stainless-steel strips; and Opal, a family of translucent globes made using a custom recipe of tinted white opalescent polycarbonate.

True to its corporate motto of ‘Make It Wonderful’, Franke aims to bring extraordinary experience to customers with their products. The focus on details is the key, such as the attention to the annealing process and its innovative ‘easy-fix’ installation system.

Sinks

Best known for its sinks, Franke’s collection is made of meticulously selected materials to ensure durability, allowing quality to be guaranteed without exception. Even for the classics lines, its stainless steel sinks feature a high-end 304 stainless chrome nickel steel, providing exceptional staining, rust and corrosion resistance, and protection from chipping, crazing, flaking, or breaking.

The stainless steel option has an exquisite interior with high versatility that accommodates different interior stylings. The polished finish effuses a natural sheen with reflective quality, while the silk or brushed finish adapt to a subtle, classy atmosphere.

Fragranite, pioneered by Franke, is a remarkably sturdy material. Uniquely invented with 80% of quartz, one of the toughest materials known to man, Fragranite is highly resistant to burns, dents, chips, and stains, whilst creating a muted sheen that warms to the touch. Integrated with Sanitized® hygiene function, it could be cleaned effortlessly with lasting protection.

Three installation methods are available for Franke sinks, including inset, flushmount, and undermount, allowing the freedom to choose between enhanced appearance and installing effort. To satisfy different households, bowl number, length and depth are all customizable.

Taps

A bowl, however well designed and installed, will not reach its full potential without an equally outstanding tap. From traditional houses to modern apartments, or any transitional phase in between, Franke is able to provide the fitting piece tying in with the whole surrounding.

The stainless steel taps, effortlessly matching bowls made with the same material, are completely lead-free to secure safe consumption. They do not show limestone residue, while the flexible hose provides pressure and corrosion resistance. The high performance ceramic cartridge ensures durability, and the NEOPERL aerator is integrated with effluent effect and water saving functions, in addition to the withdrawal sprinkler with disposable angle and mode of outlet.

The chrome tap, a slightly more economic alternative, is made of high-quality copper material. The material used is thicker than European standard, providing excellent corrosion resistance. The removable nozzle is designed for disposable angle of outlet. Equipped with the aforementioned hose, ceramic cartridge, and NEOPERL aerator, its performance brings an equally satisfying experience.

Offering interior design, decor and styling services, the studio will provide customers in Hong Kong, the mainland and the Middle East different packages to renovate their home with the help and guidance of Indigo’s experienced design team.

“We found more and more customers wanting help pulling together the perfect home – one that is both beautiful and functional, and one that works in their personal world,” said John McLennan, founder and executive chairman of Indigo Living.

“Time is also a limited commodity these days, and with a designer’s eye and touch, a lot can be done in a very short time.”

There are different design packages to suit the varied needs and budgets of customers.

“Our expanded design services offering will allow Indigo customers to choose from four levels of design services – starting from a free in-store consultation to a full home interior decoration package,” explained McLennan.

The free in-store consultation is a one-hour discussion with an interior designer or stylist, followed by a personalized showroom tour. At the end of it, you will receive a list of items with sizing and photos recommended for you.

For HK$2,000, you can get the designer to come to you. The two-hour visit will include a walk through your home to discuss in depth the changes you require as well as the items you’re looking for.

There even is a purely online service to meet the needs of busy customers. Once you have completed the quick, online design form with what you’re looking for, photos and room measurements, the designer will get back to you with a room layout, 3D visualization and itemized product list tailored to your specifications and placed in a wishlist or shopping cart for easy purchase. The cost is HK$1,200 per room.

To celebrate the new service, Indigo is giving away a free living room makeover worth up to HK$75,000. The winner will work with a designer as well as gain access to all the new design services – inclusive of 2D layouts, 3D visualizations, a furniture moodboard and Indigo home furnishings.

To enter, register on www.indigo-living.com/hk_en/design-studio-contest/ then fill out your name, e-mail address, contact and explain in 50 words or less why you want to win the makeover.

The competition starts on April 19 and entries will close on May 31.

Continuing to ride a wave of metallic trends, the four latest design styles bring together opulence and clean lines in sensual palettes.

From the royal blue of Bluemoon and geometric motifs of Bellissimo, to the neutrals of Natural Realism and European elegance of Parisian Blush, there’s plenty to inspire a seasonal change.

Bluemoon is perfect for seaside homes, of which Hong Kong has plenty. As its name implies, the cool shade is everywhere – from the sky tints of the Calypso cushion cover (HK$429) to the royal hues of the Lewis dining chairs (HK$1,990), Tawny blue fabric chair (HK$7,990) and regal Isabelle Bench (HK$8,990).

For a luxurious feel, there’s Bellissimo. Wood and clean curves give a 1960s feel to the furniture. The ultimate retro piece is the Remy TV chair (HK$16,990), whose sleek lines somehow make it look contemporary at the same time. Designed in-house by Indigo Living, and decorated in a wood veneer, the asymmetrical handles and cupboard doors of the Orson cabinet (HK$11,490) are designed to complement a variety of decor.

Natural Realism pairs simplicity with natural materials and motifs.

The Capri rectangle coffee storage table (HK$4,990) is perfect for maximizing small spaces, thanks to a hidden storage. In the bedroom, the minimalist Capri furniture sets off eye-catching accessories such as the dandelion-shaped Dianna table lamp (HK$1,290).

Feminine touches are very on-trend this summer and Parisian Blush provides the perfect look. The statement piece is the super-soft Audrey pale blue three-seater sofa (HK$17,990), upholstered in short-pile velvet with dramatically rolled arms and asymmetrical back.

Mixing memory and desire

Scent is a powerful way to bring back happy memories or conjure up dreamy visions. Hazelnut and moss, for example, might transport you deep into the woods while pomander and wood fire might bring to mind cozy winter nights by a log fire.

With nearly 50 scented candles in its repertoire, Diptyque wants to encourage people to mix and match to create their favorite olfactory atmosphere.

The tradition goes all the way back to 1963, when Diptyque’s three founders created a trio of candles - hawthorn, cinnamon and tea - to pair according to taste.

Many more candles joined the palette over time, such as wood fire, fig tree, berries, roses and moss.

This year, two new creations have been added: Lily and Narguile, which can be enjoyed as a duo (HK$1,060) or separately (HK$530 each).

Lily recalls a huge bouquet of fresh-cut blooms while Narguile, with its hints of honey, tobacco leaves and spices, takes you on a journey to the Middle East.

Through the power of scent and sight, each creation offers the chance to escape to an imaginary land or a familiar place.

For those not confident of getting the pairing right, the company also sells scented candle duo set, which you can pick according to what atmosphere you want to achieve in your home: Lily and Narguile for an Eastern garden at dusk; Roses and Jasmine for a flower festival; Cypress and Fig Tree for a fig orchard in Greece; Leather and Violet for an artist’s drawing pouch; or Sandalwood and Tuberose for memories of Asia.

Adding to this idea of pairing is Diptyque’s collaboration with Maison Pierre Frey, which has specialized in decorating, creating, producing and manufacturing fine French fabrics and wallpapers since 1935. To represent the olfactory world of each candle, Diptyque selected fabrics and wallpapers from the maison’s permanent collection and archives.

This collaboration echoes a practice dating back to Diptyque’s early days, when each candle was paired with a particular textile, which acted as the material embodiment of the scent.

Zero gravity sensation
Are you floating or lying down? It is hard to tell when you are submerged in TOTO's Floating Tub, which mimics the delicate sensation of zero gravity experience. In this half-cocoon shaped pod, user's feet are elevated to induce a slight curvature on the torso while the head is firmly supported by the adjustable neck pillow.

With TOTO's technology, the waist is constantly elevated by a stream of air jets, creating an almost weightless impression. HYDROHANDS dynamic water massage mimics the hand movement of a professional masseur, freeing your back and foot from the tension accumulated throughout the day. As a finishing touch, a warm stream also gushes down from neck pillow, gently bringing warmth and comfort to every part of your body.

To create this environ of sheer relaxation, it took over 100 tests for TOTO to find the perfect sweet spot for the delicate underwater balance. The bathtub is also constructed with GALALINE artificial marble and put together by TOTO's innovative sandwich configuration.

Hand-free experience
Even for hand washing, TOTO takes no shortcuts. NEOREST auto faucet and washbasin is integrated with a totally hand-free experience, with a side sensor to adjust the water temperature remotely.

The SOFT FLOW technology softly rinses your hands, with no or limited splatter. Water use is well-controlled, which is much friendlier toward the environment than traditional faucets.

As for the washbasin, the LINEARCERAM ceramic material is thin but robust, with thickness of 4mm minimum. The CEFIONTECH surface also prevents the adhesion of dirt and guarantees long-term use.

Diva and conquer
There's a reason Versace has been the choice of tai tais for generations: its unabashed love for bling. Gilt, heavy jacquards and, of course, the famous Medusa logo make the Italian fashion house instantly recognizable. Knowing this, it has kept with its brand aesthetics for the Versace Home collection.

Spanning the bedroom, dining, living room and for the first time, outdoors, the furniture all incorporate the familiar baroque elements. Rhapsody, which reinterprets the maison’s heritage in a modern form, is embellished with gold-tone Medusa-shaped legs, as well as leather bondage and metal hardwear. A key piece is a sofa upholstered in Technicolor Baroque print tapestry-jacquard.

The Medusa logo also features prominently in the Medusa and Logomania lines.

Outdoor furniture is an exciting new addition to the home collection. Fit for both indoor and outdoor spaces, Pop Medusa features an occasional chair and a cube, both in Pop Art colors. Jungle, which gets its name from a print shown in the spring/summer 2000 collection, is the first Versace Home outdoor line. It is crafted from gray teak wood with outdoor hi-tech suede accents.

Located in Yuen Long, Manor Parc is well-placed to commute to mainland China, as it is only an 8-minute drive to the emerging tech hub of Qianhai, and will be conveniently linked to Macau and Zhuhai via upcoming infrastructures.

Mainland connection spurs Yuen Long’s growth

With the recent announcement of the development blueprint, the Greater Bay Area is set to be China’s new epicenter of business, technology, and innovation.

One of the highlighted regions in the area, Qianhai is a fast-growing financial and technology hub with infinite potential. Just a short drive away from Hong Kong’s Yuen Long district, it attracts Hong Kong businesses and start-ups to resettle in this vibrant region.

As a result, the upcoming Hung Shui Kiu and Yuen Long South new development areas are likely to become important bridgeheads into mainland China, with strong potentials for further growth.

Golden opportunity at Manor Parc

Far East Consortium International Limited, an esteemed local real estate developer with a global footprint, has chosen a propitious time to launch Manor Parc, a newly-delivered low-density townhouses situated in Yuen Long.

Located in between the two new development areas, Manor Parc enjoys excellent connectivity to the mainland. Through the Shenzhen Bay Port and the Hong Kong-Shenzhen Western Corridor, it is a short 8-minute drive to Qianhai.

After the completion of Tuen Mun – Chek Lap Kok Link, Manor Parc’s residents will gain even better access to the airport, as well as Macau and Zhuhai through the new Hong Kong-Zhuhai-Macao Bridge. The enviable proximity to China’s fast-growing business districts means Manor Parc makes an ideal choice for those who work in, or frequently travel to, the mainland. In view of the strong interests of Chinese investors, the property is popular with first-hand buyers, together with good resale value.

Locally, Manor Parc is well served by the district’s transportation network that efficiently connects to the rest of the city through the Tai Lam Tunnel, Tuen Mun Road, Route 3 and 9. Residents can get into the CBD in just over half an hour’s drive.

The proposed Hung Shui Kiu Station on Tuen Ma Line will provide convenient public transportation access to the rest of Hong Kong after its completion.

A green neighborhood in touch with the great outdoors

Manor Parc is surrounded by lush and calming surroundings. From the Hong Kong Wetland Park, Tuen Mun Public Riding School, Tuen Mun Golf Centre, to Gold Coast Yacht & Country Club, a nature-focused lifestyle is waiting for residents to discover.

Providing for students of all ages, families can rely on the extensive education network nearby, which ranges from the esteemed Harrow International School to Chu Hai College of Higher Education.

Your home with endless possibilities

In this tranquil low-density neighborhood, Manor Parc offers 24 limited townhouses, all three stories in height and come with twin parking spaces on the lower floor, as well as exclusive private rooftop areas. For units with elevators, the rooftop could be accessed directly from the ground floor.

Apart from the rooftop, there are other outdoor spaces such as balconies and gardens. The floor-to-ceiling window walls, sliding glass doors, and see-through balconies maximize the view and let in natural light. To enhance privacy, there are dividers between adjacent units’ rooftop spaces.

With versatile 3 to 6-room configurations to choose from, the saleable area of the townhouses range from 1,967 to 2,622 sq. ft., wisely designed to curate a spacious environment. With at least two en-suites available, the extra rooms could be repurposed into studios, hobby rooms and more, customized to suit your own lifestyle.

Perfect for hosting business or social dinners, the spacious dining room is designed to fit in a round dining table for 6. Thanks to the high ceiling, a grand chandelier could hang above the table to create an opulent impression.
